WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY.

A Valuable American Invention.

American journals report that General Greely, Chief Signal Officer of the U. S. Army, has announced that his corps has perfected a wireless telegraph receiver which will enable them to intercept and read the messages of every system of wireless telegraphy in use.

The news will be of special interest to foreign governments, for it is true that the United States Army receivers can intercept the messages sent by every wireless telegraph system in use, wireless telegraphy as a method of secret communication, should trouble ever arise between that country and any foreign foe, would be of no advantage to an enemy of the United States.

It was while discussing a report that Commander Perry, when he started on his latest dash for the North Pole, had taken along a wireless telegraph apparatus that would keep him in communication with the rest of the world, and that the government had no station equipped with the same apparatus at which to receive the messages, that General Greely let it be known that the army had invented a type of wireless receiver that will enable it to receive wireless messages transmitted by any system.

"The new army receivers," said General Greely, "invented by the signal corps, intercept and record the messages of all known systems."

Asked for further explanation of the invention, General Greely dismissed his interviewer with the statement:

"The signal corps service is absolutely secret, and will remain so."

An idea of the effect this invention will have on wireless telegraphy may be gathered from the fact that at the present time the United States navy uses three systems of wireless telegraphy, the Fessenden, the Arco-Slaby and the De Forest. Intercommunication between the vessels and the navy yards using three systems has been impossible.

It is a well-known fact, admitted by the EGYPTIAN CIGARETTE MANU-FACTURERS themselves, that Cigarettes imported from Egypt are made from TURKISH TOBACCO, which is subject to a heavy Import Duty in Egypt. Hongkong being a Free Port tobacco can be imported free of duty.Two Good Reasons why it is advantageous to Smoke
my Cigarettes.1.—Cheapness of my Cigarettes compared to imported cigarettes, owing to tobacco
being admitted duty-free into Hongkong, and that you are buying direct from the Manufacturer, doing away with middlemen's profits.2.—Freshness of my Cigarettes, as they are made daily for each day's consumption, which makes it impossible to have an old stock of Cigarettes, as is very likely with imported Cigarettes.The following is a list of my Cigarettes made from the Best Turkish Tobacco at from 40% to 50% cheaper than imported cigarettes of equal quality.

GROWING POWER OF CHINESE PAPERS.

THE fact, as chronicled yesterday, that the Canton officials have found it advisable to confer with the editors of the native papers, on matters of national importance is significant. In the West rulers have learned to hold the editors of the more reliable section of the Press in the highest esteem. The influence of a powerful editor has recently been used in developing the plot of that very remarkable, if somewhat impossible book, "When it was Dark." Mr. Ommeney, of the "Daily Wire," had free access to Downing Street, and apparently could arrange the hour of his visit. Though perhaps somewhat exaggerated it illustrates, in a general way, the power of the Press. The tide of influence has been slow and gradual, but never retrogressive. Newspapers must be reckoned with, and the influence of editors appeared as an undoubted force. In China, however, the growth of this power has been like Jonah's gourd—except that it will not wane suddenly—the growth of a night. It is distinctly remembered by many who are not yet old, when a newspaper office in Canton was unsafe, unless guaranteed by foreign influence and support; and even then the editor would undoubtedly pay a visit to the Nam Hoi's prison, instead of being invited to his yamen, if the columns of his paper contained anything but harmless references to the Manchurian rulers. This era of terrorism seems to have passed almost as swiftly as in northern latitudes the ice and snow of winter gives place to the genial warmth and sudden verdure of the spring. The bold undiplomatic action of the Canton Viceroy in arresting Lai Kwok Lim has apparently roused the thinking Chinese throughout the entire empire. As one paper remarks "Outside the limits of Canton, in Hongkong, Shanghai, Tientsin and in Peking as well as in all the foreign ports where Chinese newspapers are published and read, they have discussed and opposed this arrogant aggression, and in doing so have voiced the opinions and aspirations of the people." The release of Lai Kwok Lim, who resisted the mandarins and the appointment of a commission to examine into the various causes of this dispute, have been a decided rebuff to the arrogant Viceroy, and the influence of the press has had much to do with the attainment of these results. Time was, not so long since, when the knowledge of the perpetration of such an outrage would be confined to the narrowest circle of the prisoner's relatives, who would have been as impotent to interfere with the course of events as would be the prisoner himself. It could not be otherwise. Few would know and none would care. This sort of thing has been changed. Now it would appear as if the officials, seeing that the forces arrayed against them are too powerful to be destroyed are about to take measures to deflect them to their own ends. Every one can see from our brief report of the interview that the mandarins have offered the olive branch to the spokesmen of the people, in the hope it will in some way benefit themselves. Twenty years ago such an invitation would have been declined by the timid, and those who were audacious enough to accept it would probably have been invited further to lay their venturesome heads in a foul prison-house. The question of the railway was introduced and discussed. The officials are wily enough to attempt to capture the press, if possible, in their own interest. They see now plainly enough that under their direction and control the railway scheme has failed, whilst under the control of the Chamber of Commerce there is every prospect of a complete success. They may therefore be hopeful that even yet, with a little tact, the fates will allow them to pluck some of the fruit from the tree which others have planted. Here, however, we are not concerned with this. The salient and striking point is the victory which the native press has won, and it can be clearly foreseen that by this one achievement, the vernacular press has gone far towards making it impossible for officials and corrupt mandarins to ride roughshod over the wishes of the people in the future.

An advertisement in an American Trade Review is calculated to induce terrifying reflections. Unkind scientists from time to time afflict the world with pessimistic prophecies which range from a sudden sizzling up of this hapless globe and its unfortunate inhabitants by contact with the tail of an irresponsible comet endowed with supreme contempt for the rules of the celestial road, to a gradual evaporation of heat from the earth's surface which will lead gradually to the extinction of all humans except the Esquimaux who have been training for the event on a diet of dripping for many generations. Also some scientific pests hold just the opposite view about the earth's surface and maintain that the solid crust over the molten mass which simmers peacefully below (except when it feels cramped and stretches itself at Martinique and other favoured localities) is gradually getting thinner and that the day is approaching when the tangible earth and sea as we know it will fall through, with the result that the temperature met with down under will be found unbearable—except for residents of Singapore. The advertisement referred to suggests the possibility of an agonised people being overwhelmed by an avalanche of—sawing machines. It appears that these ingenious contrivances are being turned out of one factory at the rate of 1200 daily. This record has been achieved in 30 years. Obviously if this sort of thing is to continue and extend the surface of the globe will gradually become covered with sewing machines and in the fulness of time the nations will vainly struggle towards the upper air beneath a steadily-increasing crust of double thread, lock-stitch, noisels, rotary and entirely soulless combinations of machinery. The Hon. Mr. Pollock, K. C., should ask the Legislative Council what it proposes to do about it.

Unless the Canton newspapers have exaggerated the tremendous ovation which greeted the release of Lai, the enthusiasm felt and shown was something quite unique. He was released on Friday last. Students, gentry, merchants, aldermen, and editors thronged the Chamber of Commerce in Ngan Kung Street to give the man a welcome. Previously many students had been drawn up at the entrance to act as a guard of honour. Afterwards a procession of students and others with flags and banners was formed, which marched to the Central police station, where presumably Lai was formally released. Along the route people crowded as thick as ants. They lined the streets; they crowded the roofs; they hung on to every point of vantage. They filled the air with shouts and with the detonations of crackers; and the heavens with smoke. Among the on-lookers there were many Europeans who had come out to witness the scene. The hero of the hour when the formal release was ratified, was photographed, in front of the Police Station, so that his name, fame, and figure may be handed down to posterity as the fighter and the victor in a great struggle. Scholar and coolie vied with each other in belauding the recent prisoner. The day has been regarded as more worthy of remembrance than the fortunate hour when the swift courier, before the days of the telegraph, announced to the expectant family that their son had come out first in the great Peking Tsin Sz examinations. Eight of the largest colleges gave a holiday to their students, who, when the official arrangements were completed, escorted Lai back to his own home. All this reminds us of the enthusiasm of the English when the Seven Bishops who had been charged with publishing a "false, seditious and malicious libel," were found "not guilty" by a strong and fearless jury, and the doom of James II was sealed. Indeed the editor of the Canton Times refers to Western ideals in his "notes and comments" and quotes a saying that honour is even more dear to a man than his life. He further looks forward to the day when an elected Parliament shall rule in China, though the imperial princes may be allowed to form the "Upper House." How much of this is a pleasing dreamland, and how much has a basis in solid knowledge, and wisdom, the outsider cannot at present decide. What is obvious is that a great victory has been won by the people, and a long nail has been prepared for the coffin in which already has been placed the old unchallenged domineering ascendancy of Manchu officialdom.

LOCAL AND COAST NEWS.

A venturesome small-footed Chinese woman tried to jump off a moving tram car at the Harbour Office corner this morning. The result was disastrous to the woman's beauty. The tram was moving at a fair rate of speed and the woman was unaccustomed to alighting from a moving car, she was thrown violently to the ground and sustained injuries to her face and body, but was picked up by her friends and taken home.

After we went to press yesterday afternoon it was decided at the Sanitary Board's meeting to permit the houses Nos. 1 to 13 On Shing Street (the correspondence in connection with which we published yesterday) to remain in their present condition until the expiration of five years from 1905. The understanding was that the houses would then be reconstructed. Regarding early opening of the Central Market Dr. Pearce's recommendation was approved of, that port sellers should be allowed in at 2 a.m. The minute stating that the Chinese constable who stopped stall holders from going in until 4 a.m. was unauthorised, was by the Hon. Mr. Brown and not by the Captain Superintendent of Police although it was written in such a position as to make it come under his name.

The Murder Case. The three Chinese, who were tried on a charge of murder at the Supreme Court yesterday, were found guilty and sentenced to death. The Indian Constable, whose prompt action was responsible for their arrest, was commended.

H. M. S. "Donegal". The crew of the cruiser "Donegal" which has been selected to relieve the cruiser "Andromeda," Captain Robert N. Ommeney, on the China Station, was to have been made up to sailing strength on February 6 by Captain W. J. Grogan, a well-known Irish officer, who has been appointed to the command. The "Donegal" will be manned by 700 officers and men. Captain Grogan entered the Navy in 1871, was promoted lieutenant in 1882, commander in 1895, and captain on the last day of 1905. He is no stranger to the station, having served here previously and also on the East Indies Station.

OPENING OF PARLIAMENT.

THE ADDRESS ADOPTED.

The Lords and Chinese Labour.

(Exclusive Service, supplied by Reuter, via Bombay).

LONDON, February 20.

The House of Lords has adopted the Address from the Throne.

The Earl of Creve denied that the elections were won by misrepresentation regarding Chinese Labour in the Transvaal.

THE PREMIER'S SPEECH.

Supporting France.

Chinese Labour Servile and Cruel.

(Exclusive Service, supplied by Reuter, via Bombay).

LONDON, February 20.

In the House of Commons the Rt. Hon. Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman referred to the Morocco conference, which, as far as he knew, was succeeding satisfactorily, though slowly.

"We are giving France the utmost diplomatic support," continued the Premier, "without the slightest prejudice to our amity with other Powers."

The Prime Minister emphatically declared that the understanding with France was as strongly entrenched as ever.

Referring to the employment of Chinese in the Transvaal he reiterated that the traffic was servile and cruel.

[REUTER'S SERVICE.]

GERMAN AND FRANCE.

LONDON, February 19.

The Kaiser has received Baron de Courcel, the special French Envoy, on board a German warship at Copenhagen, showing him marked courtesy.

THE GERMANY NAVY.

LONDON, February 19.

It is stated that the King of Denmark has been made an Admiral of the Germany navy.

The Opening Ceremony.

LONDON, February 19.

Parliament was opened with the usual ceremony, but it was shorn of some of its splendour owing to the court mourning and the absence of the Queen, the Prince and Princess of Wales and the Duke and Duchess of Connaught; the King walked with a stick, but looked remarkably well, and read the speech in a loud and strong voice.

CHINESE ON THE RAND.

Announcement by the Premier.

Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman has announced that Chinese in the Transvaal, desirous of returning home, will not be detained against their will, the Imperial Government will provide funds to repatriate them, and will disallow the judicial punitive methods sanctioned by the recent amendment of the ordinance.

M. Chamberlain, in the House of Commons, has challenged the Government to express their views regarding the Chinese slavery election posters.

AUSTRIA-HUNGARY.

Critical Situation.

LONDON, February 19. The Budapest Diet is surrounded by troops; the Royal Commissioner sent in a receipt dissolving the Diet, reserving the question of summoning another. The Lower House unanimously returned the receipt unopposed, and adjourned. The commissioners of the Delegation subsequently read the receipt to an empty-house and the troops cleared out, and the officials sealed the doors.

MORE EVERY YEAR.—More people take Stearns' Wine of God Liver Oil every year than ever before. That's because it builds up their health, and they tell their friends about it.
